

A conference provides an opportunity for people to learn, share and network, however, with a little sprinkle of energy and meaningful engagement it can be transformed into a lifetime experience.

Rahul utilizes his brilliant art of presenting an event and brings to life the theme of an event using concepts like motivational talks, simulated team building activities and TV Game shows modules.

How does the catalyst work?

Rahul kicks off the event with an energizer or a motivational talk based on the conference theme, which helps participants get familiar with each other and also experience one of the attributes of the theme.

Then depending on the conference format he takes the stage 3-4 times to deliver the key messages using various methodologies. He also creates a powerful experience for the participants during the concluding session of the conference and produce magical moments that are remembered for long.
